Cambridgeshire: Local Authority Support for a Whole School Approach to Mental Health

About this Document

This document has been created as a result of feedback from schools who didn't feel that it was always clear what services the local authority provided in terms of mental health support.

The local authority encourages schools to take a whole school approach to mental health whereby every aspect of school life, from the curriculum to staff wellbeing and engagement with the community, promotes good mental health.

We all have mental health, and having good mental health has been linked with better school achievement as well as better outcomes later in life.

Schools and colleges can use this document to identify the support that the local authority can provide them with to take a whole school approach to mental health.

Comments and Feedback

It would be helpful to have your comments or feedback on this document to ensure that it is useful and includes the information that is most helpful in your work. For further comments please contact:

Please note this document will be updated as information changes so is under constant review.

Glossary/Acronyms

FCAF (Family Common Assessment Framework): A standard approach to assessing the strengths and additional needs of families supporting decision making about how these needs might best be addressed. It has been designed for use by anyone who works with children, young people, adults and families. It can be used whenever you are concerned that a child, young person or family has needs which might require additional support.

TAF (Team Around the Child/Family): The members of the TAF develop and deliver a package of solution-focused support to meet the needs identified through the common assessment.

CREDS (Cambridgeshire Race Equality & Diversity Service) – Aim to increase levels of achievement and participation of black, minority ethnic (BME), Gypsy, Roma and Traveller children, young people and families, including those who have English as an additional language (EAL).

PSHE - Personal, Social, Health and Economic education.

SEND - Special Educational Need or Disability.

Whole School Review Tool

There will already be lots of working going on in schools or colleges to promote good mental health. A straight forward way of identifying areas that could be improved is to use the whole school review tool. This document is available from the education wellbeing team and guides you through reviewing different aspects of the school's work to assess whether more can be done to promote better mental health. When the whole school review is complete, this document can help to establish what support is available to help improve the areas identified. There are currently tools for primary and secondary school settings available.

Contact: pshe@cambridgeshire.gov.uk

Where to Start?

There is a lot of information in this document about what support is available, but where to start? You will already have some elements of a whole school approach to mental health in place, but how do you build on these? The example below will hopefully help.

An Example...

⇒ The best way to know what you need to do is to look at where you are now. Use the 'whole school review tool (see page 2) in a staff meeting to assess which area you could do with improving in your school or college.

For example, if staff don't feel they are very confident in identifying signs of poor mental health in pupils then look at the staff development section of this document (page 5). A good course of action would then be to invite CPFT (Cambridgeshire & Peterborough Foundation Trust) to run a free staff briefing. From this a number of staff may then wish to undertake the free online training to further build their confidence.

Or, perhaps your school feels that you could improve the curriculum for the development of children's emotional wellbeing. In which case, primary schools are able access free resources including lesson plans around emotional health from the PSHE service. Secondary schools are being invited to take up the opportunity of a free 2.5 hour consultancy support visit which will support with this particular issue too (see page 5).

⇒ Once the action plan has been drawn up, plan the date for reviewing progress made on the actions and ensure each action is being led by a named individual.

⇒ At the review, look at progress and update the whole school review tool to reflect on the school's achievements. Then focus on working on other areas where there is room for improvement.

What if I Need Urgent Help?

If you are seriously concerned about someone's safety then then advice to parents and young people is:

If you can't get through the night then you could go to A and E.

If you can't get through the next 24 hours you could go to your GP or A & E

If you are feeling suicidal or you are worried about someone else, contact your GP, the Samaritans (08457 90 90 90) or see the local STOP Suicide website (www.stopsuicidepledge.org)

The local 'Understanding and responding to children and young people at risk of self-harm and suicide' practitioner guide is a useful resource and includes information on assessing risk.

Working with Parents/Carers

Family Workers

Family workers are based in locality teams and offer support and advice to parents/carers on issues such as children's challenging behaviour, establishing routines, raising self-esteem, increasing confidence and improving family relationships. Support and advice may be offered through individual support and/or a range of parenting courses. Individual support can be delivered in a range of locations including schools. Schools can make referrals to a family worker. They work with 0-19s (up to 25 if the child has SEND). The contact details will depend on your locality team, visit: www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/

Parenting Programmes

A range of courses are offered for free across Cambridgeshire, these include:

Raising Toddlers (0-5 years)

Incredible Years Early Years (up to age 6)

Incredible Years 6+

Stepping Stones (aged 2-12 with special educational needs)

Raising Children (up to 12 years)

Sibling Rivalry (up to 16 years)

Raising Teens (10+ years)

ESCAPE (10+ years)

www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/

SEND Services

Sessions are available for parents to support them in understanding their child's needs and helping them to support their child with SEND. There is a cost for this service, further details are available from:

Community Educational Psychologists (CEPs)

CEPs can provide support and advice to parents/carers of children with SEND.

They can also support with teacher-based consultation where the needs of children and young people are discussed and action-planning is devised .

In addition they can support with multi-agency consultation – discussing strategies, evidence based interventions and action-planning for meeting needs with those adults/agencies that work/live with children and young people.

Identifying Need and Monitoring

Health Related Behaviour Survey

In primary and secondary schools the survey gives data on a range of aspects of pupil health and wellbeing. The information, which includes data on bullying, self-esteem and trust, can be used to plan the curriculum and identify areas of potential improvement. Exploring findings with pupils can help to further tease out issues and understand areas that need more work.

See page 2 for details.

Targeted Support

Advice and Coordination Team (ACT)

The Advice and Coordination Team (ACT) is currently available for professionals to access, it provides:

- * Advice: A single telephone line operating during office hours that provides advice and information for young people, parents and professionals about local services, guidance about accessing them, and signpost to self-help resources.
- * Coordination: Provides a coordination service to support Think Family working; specifically intelligence gathering and sharing between agencies, identifying a Lead Professional, facilitating referrals and monitoring Team Around the Family activity.

Advice and Coordination Team: 01480 376 666 or act@cambridgeshire.gov.uk (open 9am - 5pm Monday to Thursday and 9am - 4.30pm Friday).

Family Information Service (FIS)

Provides information for families with a child 0 to 19 (or up to 25 for those with SEND). Information is provided online on a range of topics including childcare, education, support services and other useful resources. The Families and Childcare Information helpline can provide information and support for parents and carers who need help with finding childcare.

Telephone: 0345 045 1360 (open Monday – Friday, 9am-5pm) email: fis@cambridgeshire.gov.uk, website: www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/families

Family Common Assessment Framework (FCAF)

The FCAF can be used by anyone who works with children, young people, adults and families across the workforce. They may be employed or volunteers, and working in the public, private or third sector. It can be used whenever you are concerned that a child, young person of family has needs which might require additional support. It can be used flexibly so that a professional who is less used to assessing the needs of the whole family can start the process by completing what they are able to.

Before starting a Family CAF assessment the Assessor should contact the Advice and Coordination Team (ACT) on 01480 376 666 or act@cambridgeshire.gov.uk to check if a Family CAF already exists. A copy of the Family CAF assessment, signed by the members of the family, should also be sent to the Advice and Coordination Team. This may be once the FCAF is fully completed or once the initial assessor has completed what they can. A copy of the Family CAF should be offered to the parent/carer and/or young person.

SEND Services

Cambridgeshire's SEND Specialist Services provide a range of professional services for children, young people and families in a wide range of educational and community settings. A range of training is available:

- * Governors - Training to ensure Governors understand their statutory responsibilities and give guidance on how to support their schools in meeting those requirements.
- * Parents and Carers - Offer sessions for parents to support them in understanding their child's needs and helping them to support their child.
- * Teaching Assistants - Support them to more effectively work with pupils with SEND.
- * Teachers - A variety of training in all aspects of SEND provision in the classroom as well as specific training in developing positive conversations with parents.
- * Headteachers and Senior Leaders - SEN/Inclusion reviews to support schools in improving their provision for SEND as well as training and support for schools in engaging with families and pupils.
- * SENCOs - Termly briefings, support for whole school approaches and bespoke individualised support.

Community Educational Psychology Service (CEPS)

This service applies psychology to support children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities, those who are emotionally vulnerable or have emerging mental health needs. The team supports access to learning and social curriculum so pupils are more likely to realise their developmental potential. Support is allocated according to need. Additional supplementary time can be purchased.

A range of core services are provided at no cost to local authority maintained schools. These services include providing intensive therapeutic support for pupils with emotional wellbeing and mental health needs as well as statutory assessment and transition planning for pupils with SEND. In addition they can provide support and advice around assessment, planning and evaluation of teaching, learning and emotional wellbeing interventions.

For further information on additional core services offered and additional services that can be purchased visit:

<http://www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/learntogether/homepage/87/ceps>

School Nurse or Health Visitor

If the child is under the age of 5 then a health visitor will provide support to the child, after the age of 5 the school nursing service takes over care.
